

Who: Frederik Zernike

When: 1953

Equipment: Contrast microscope

What they may have thought:

"This is fabulous. Now we can look right at a living cell. We don't have to stain them and kill them to see them."

INCOMING INFORMATION

"The right tools in the right hands leads to these discoveries."

Audio

